CORE NEEDS

She seeks a flexible loan with manageable payments (repayment terms and monthly payments) to buy her first home in a well-located suburb, prefers a digital application process, and values a clear, simple explanation of the loan terms without too much and complex information.

MAIN FRUSTRATIONS

She fears complex loan terms, worries about qualifying due to rising prices in the area, and dislikes spending time on multiple visits to in-person bank branches.

BACKGROUND

This persona has been renting an apartment in the last years but now wants to buy her first home for stability. She is financially responsible. She saves part of her income and has a stable job, which makes the credit score solid, but is nervous about the debt load of the mortgage.

TIME CONSTRAINTS

She has limited free time during weekdays due to her full-time job, but spends her weekends on personal projects, including completing the loan application process.

QUOTE

"I've been saving for years and want a smooth, straightforward loan process. I don't want to miss anything important and prefer to handle everything online or through the app, so I can manage it on my own time without visiting the bank."

A DAY IN THE LIFE

Morning: She goes for a run before going to work.

Afternoon: She meets with a colleague to chat about work and personal projects. Back at work, she spends the next few hours focused, using productivity tools to stay organized and communicate with her team.

Evening: After dinner, she browses real estate websites to stay updated on new home listings. Before bed, she either watches an episode of a series or reads a book, finishing the day with a few minutes of meditation.
